

SUFFRAGISTS ARE GETTING VERY RESTIVE

(BY DAVID M. CHURCH)
(STAFF CORRESPONDENT, I. N. SERVICE)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—The democratic national convention may yet undergo a seige from the militant suffragists.

Suffragists were called into session today by Mrs. Abby Scott Baker to consider what steps should be taken with regard to forcing the convention to bring its weight to bear upon legislatures of democratic states in order that the suffrage amendment may be ratified in order to permit women to vote in the primaries which will be held in eight states in August.

Something has to be done and it looks as though the democrats would have to do it," said Mrs. Baker. "The mere insertion of a suffrage plank in their platform won't satisfy us—that would be merely saying the need for the democratic party. We want the democrats to do something about Tennessee and North Carolina. If those two states can be forced to ratify within the next few weeks, it seems possible that the American women may begin to exercise their right of franchise this summer. There are eight states where the women are anxious to vote in primaries this summer.

"I don't know what we will do, but I rather imagine we will agree on some method of bringing this question squarely before the Tennessee and the North Carolina delegations and making them responsible for the final effort to secure ratification in July in those two states."

TO RESURFACE HOHMAN ST. IS DECIDED

As a result of the public hearing before the Board of Public Works yesterday afternoon relative to the proposed re-surfacing of South Hohman street, a committee was appointed to report back to the Board in ten days, whether that portion of the street between Carroll and Standard streets should be re-surfaced at all and if it is to be improved, to recommend what material the property holders prefer.

It was announced at the meeting that it had been definitely decided at the previous meeting that South Hohman street is to be re-surfaced between Carroll and Carroll streets by the question of what material is to be used is not yet decided. The statement was made by A. J. Swanson, chairman of the Board of Public Works, that the city would begin with in a few days on the work of filling the holes, but urged that immediate action be taken relative to the resurfacing, for the reason that a certain lot of time had been observed in carrying out the procedure.

M. E. Noblet, secretary of the Hoosier State Automobile Association was one of the speakers at the hearing. He appeared upon request of the Automobile Committee of Hammond, appointed some time ago by the Hammond Chamber of Commerce with Ed. Hohling as chairman. This committee is particularly anxious that South Hohman st. be improved as they want to bring the Huntington-Manitou Culver Trail from Lima to Chicago, by way of Hammond and State streets, the purpose of this is to let the traveling public know that Hammond has a beautiful residence and a high grade business district. Everybody knows that at the present time the traveling public gets a very false and bad impression of Hammond because they do not see it to advantage.

Seven or eight property holders south of Carroll street spoke against any improvement on Hohman street between Carroll and Standard streets, but after it was explained by City Engineer Bridges and others that this part of Hohman street, unless it is resurfaced at this time is likely to go in pieces next winter as did that portion of Hohman street between Carroll and Douglas streets this winter, they were almost unanimous in desiring the resurfacing extended on down to Standard avenue.

The committee that Mr. Haan appointed are: Max Kline, Ben Wolf, W. E. Adams, Ed Debow, W. Machine, T. G. L. Smith, Oscar Krimmell. Mr. Haan expects to get his committee together as soon as he possibly can and take such steps as may be necessary to arrive at a decision and report back to the board of public works within the allotted 10 days.

SCHOOL HEAD GETS DIVORCE

Frank Wildrick, superintendent of the schools of Remington, Ind., was granted a divorce from his wife Lillie, yesterday afternoon, in room 1 of the Hammond superior court. Wildrick had alleged in his complaint that his wife was not in accord with his ideas regarding higher education and did everything in her power to keep him from progressing.

Mrs. Wildrick appeared and put in her claim for custody of their eleven year old child and support money. She will keep the child with her and the husband will pay $120 per year for his support. All costs were taxed against the husband.

Mr. Wildrick will be permitted to see the little boy at all proper hours and he has permission to take the lad with him for two weeks of the year, providing the boy does not object.
